5. Safety along the route

Several actors are involved in safety management along the route : the race director, fixed traffic volunteers, motorized traffic volunteers (motorbikes), opening vehicles...

The race mainly uses open roads. Athletes are thus asked to skate on the right side of the road, comply to volunteers instructions. Athletes should pay attention and be nice with other users of the road. Any athlete that do not comply to these rules can be stopped immediately.

The route taken including uphill and downhill (not dangerous ones anyway), athletes must be able to brake.

Safety and Instructions Commitment

All members of the Roll’Athlon 100 organization and all traffic management volunteers along the route, wearing a Yellow Jacket « Roll’Athlon 100 » may report any misconduct of athletes to judges :

- Safety instructions from volunteers
- Specific Roll’Athlon 100 road signs
- Rubbish areas

Disrespect of these rules and of the natural environment jeopardize the athletes, as well as the event itself. This may lead to immediate disqualification & stop.

6. Route
